

Making a Good Confession

Word & Life Publications

Sacramental confession is no formality. It is a decisive stage in the long process of our moral conversion. It is the key to peace of mind and improvement. But, in order to obtain these benefits, we must be clear about some fundamental truths and apply them to our personal situations.

Fundamental Truths

1. God loves us immensely and wants our eternal happiness.
2. We can enjoy this eternal happiness only if we use our freedom to live according to His will.
3. Any refusal to behave according to God's will is a sin, the gravity of which depends on:
  - The action that we do or omit,
  - Our degree of awareness, or intention and degree of freedom, and
  - The circumstances.
4. As a refusal to respond to God's love, sin is an act of ingratitude, pride and rebellion against Him.
5. Whenever we sin we turn away from God, and we give ourselves or other creatures the attention and love that should be directed to Him alone.
6. In so doing, we cause damage to ourselves and to others because we upset the order established by the Creator.
7. In His divine love, God is always willing to forgive us. He actually never ceases to call us back to Him and to proper behavior.
8. If we want to enjoy God's forgiveness, we must respond to His invitation to:
  - stop sinning,
  - abandon situations of sin, and
  - return to Him with a contrite heart.
9. We must also seek His forgiveness through the ministry of the Church, according to Jesus' mind when he gave the Apostles the power to forgive sins (see Jn 20:22f).
10. The reception of God's forgiveness through the sacrament of Penance brings about in us a real spiritual resurrection: we rise again to a new life of grace. Through this sacrament we are reconciled with God, with the Church, with our neighbor, and with ourselves.

Steps to be Taken before Going to Confession

The most important thing is not to "go to confession," but "to make a good confession," i.e.:

- a. to approach this sacrament sincerely sorry for our sins;
- b. to confess them in all humility and honesty;

Moms Transmit the Faith

- c. to be ready to make amends for them;
- d. to be determined to avoid committing sin in the future, and to live according to God's will.

In order to do all of this, an essential step is to make a thorough examination of conscience. This includes:

- a. becoming aware of the gravity and number of one's sins -- either in thought, word or deed -- whether they consist in something wrong that we have committed, or in something good that we should have done yet failed to do (sins of omission);
- b. realizing that, by our sins we have offended God, and have renewed the cause of Jesus Christ's suffering and death, causing harm to our neighbor and ourselves.

Valuable helps in making a good examination of conscience are:

- a. prayer to the Holy Spirit for enlightenment and sincerity;
- b. reading of a pertinent Scriptural passage, which can help us rediscover the gravity of our sinfulness, the greatness of God's love for us, and his readiness to forgive us;
- c. going over sets of questions concerning our duties to God, our neighbors, and ourselves.

Prayer before Making an Examination of Conscience

Come, Holy Spirit, into my soul and help me know my sins, feel sorry for them, and confess them humbly, that I may be able to enjoy the Father's forgiveness. By your light, illumine the darkness of my mind; by your fire warm my cold heart; by your grace fill me with your love and power. May I realize the wrong that I did and the good that I failed to do. Help me feel truly sorry for all my sins, strengthen my determination to avoid them in the future, and to live in your love, your peace, and your joy. Amen.

Biblical Passages to be Read

Before the examination of conscience, select and read one of the following biblical passages:

Old Testament

Is 1:16-18; Jer 3:12b-14a; Ez18:23, 30b-32; Sir 28:2-7

New Testament

Mt 5:17-19; Mt 5:20-24, 27-48; Mt 7:1-5; Mt 25:31-46; Lk 15:1-7; Lk 15:11-32; Lk 19:1-10; Jn 20:19-23; 1Cor 13:1-7; Eph 4:17-20, 25-32, 5:1-7; Eph 5:1-7; Eph 5:8-15, 19-21; Phil 4:8-9; Col 3:1-10; Col 3:12-17; Col 3:18-21; Rev 3:20

Reflect prayerfully on the Word of God you have just read.

Grid for the Examination of Conscience

There are several ways to make a good examination of conscience. A rather common one consists in reviewing one's life in the light of the Ten Commandments to see if, how often, and how gravely we have failed to keep them.

Another way consists in reflecting on the basic Christian virtues (e.g.: faith, hope, love of God and neighbor, patience, purity, honesty, etc.) to see if we have practiced them or not.

There are other ways to make an examination of conscience, but what is essential is to place ourselves in the presence of Almighty God and ask ourselves, in total honesty, if He is pleased with us, and if not, why?

Preliminary Questions

- When did I make my last confession? Was it a “good confession”?
- Did I make any special promise to the Lord on that occasion? Did I keep that promise?

- Did I judge others rashly?
- Am I a biased person?
- Am I able to balance truth and charity?

Immediately before Confession

- a. Humbly and sincerely ask the Lord's forgiveness and the grace you need to avoid sin in the future;
- b. Try to identify the internal root causes of your sins: wrong inclinations, personal weaknesses, bad habits...and see what you can do to eliminate at least one of these "root causes." This means: resolve to work seriously at becoming a better person by either getting rid of one serious moral defect, or by strengthening one good moral quality (virtue);
- c. Ask the Lord for the grace to make a sincere and thorough confession.

During Confession

Make the sign of the cross and say:

Bless me, Father, for I have sinned.

Allow the priest to give you his blessing and to add whatever exhortation he may be inspired to offer. Listen prayerfully and with an open heart, then say:

My last good confession was (...) ago. Since then, I have committed the following sins...

Confess your sins clearly and sincerely, starting with the most difficult or embarrassing

Moms Transmit the Faith

ones.

Should you feel nervous, or uncertain about some sins, ask the priest to help you.

Remember that it is necessary to specify the number of mortal sins, together with the circumstances that may have added to their gravity.

When you have finished confessing all the sins that you remember, say:

For these sins and all the sins of my past life, especially the sins against (mention the most important virtues, like charity, honesty, purity, etc.), I ask absolution and penance from you, Father.

The confessor will give you some pertinent advice. He will also give you an appropriate penance to be performed after the sacrament. Then, at his invitation, recite the Act of Contrition.

You can say an Act of Contrition either in your own words, or by reciting the following:

O my God, I am heartily sorry for having offended you. And I detest all my sins, because of your just punishments; but most of all because they offend you, my God, who are all good and deserving of all my love. I firmly resolve, with the help of your grace, to sin no more, and to avoid the near occasions of sin. Amen.

After having recited the Act of Contrition, bow your head and receive the priest's absolution with humility and gratitude. Follow his words attentively and join him in saying the closing "Amen!"

AFTER CONFESSION

Kneel down in front of the altar or of an image of Our Lord, and thank him for the gift of this confession. Renew your resolutions and ask His help to overcome future temptations. With St. Dominic Savio, repeat the prayer/commitment synthesized in the motto: Death, rather than sin.

If the penance given by the confessor consists in some prayers to be recited, say them quietly and devoutly.

Then smile at Jesus with gratitude. Rise joyful and confident, for the Lord has been merciful to you. Live for Him every minute of your life, and let everybody see how wonderful it is to serve the Lord....
